Full-Time, Tenure-Track Physiologist

LOCATION: Creighton University School of Medicine, Omaha, Nebraska

Join a team of leading health care educators.
Creighton University School of Medicine is seeking applicants for a 12-month, full-time, tenure-track position at the level of Assistant or Associate Professor in the Department of Medical Education. The Department of Medical Education is a growing department that serves as the academic home to those whose careers are devoted to teaching in the health professions. Individuals trained in the anatomical sciences and interested in pursuing a career primarily devoted to teaching are encouraged to apply.

Responsibilities of the position include the team-teaching of medical, graduate and other health profession students. Applicants must have a PhD, or equivalent terminal degree, and experience teaching human physiology. Successful candidates will participate in lectures, laboratory sessions, small-group interactive sessions and student assessments. Although the major focus of the department is excellence in teaching, scholarship is crucial to intellectual development in an academic community; faculty are expected to maintain scholarly activity which promotes the advancement of medical science or the intellectual development of others.

ABOUT CREIGHTON UNIVERSITY
Creighton University is a private Jesuit, Catholic institution located on 120 acres near downtown Omaha. Creighton's beautiful campus houses nine undergraduate, graduate and professional schools and colleges. Creighton was named No. 1 among Midwest regional universities by U.S. News & World Report for 16 consecutive years. Students of Creighton University are a diverse group of individuals who practice their respective professions in all 50 states. Faculty and staff are committed to pursuing excellence in education and developing students who are skilled clinicians, critical thinkers, culturally competent and compassionate practitioners committed to service.

ABOUT OMAHA
Omaha is located within rolling hills along the Missouri River, and is home to over 900,000 people in the greater metro area. The low cost of living, healthy economy and strong schools make Omaha a very pleasant and affordable place to live. The many local attractions and activities include the world-renowned Henry Doorly Zoo and Aquarium. Cultural venues such as Joslyn Art Museum, Rose Theater, Holland Performing Arts Center and the Bemis Center for Contemporary Art all provide high quality entertainment for any interest and age. Omaha is home to the College World Series and has hosted several other major sporting events, including the U.S. Olympic Swim trials, NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament games and the FEI World Cup. Travel around the metropolitan area is convenient which makes participating in activities downtown or in the extensive park and trail system very accessible.

TO APPLY
Please submit a curriculum vitae and letter of application that include a description of administrative and teaching experiences, current and future research activities and the names and contact information of three references by mail to:
Lurae McCloskey
Faculty Affairs Coordinator
Creighton University
School of Medicine
2500 California Plaza,
Omaha NE 68178
luraemccloskey@creighton.edu
402.280.1135

FOLLOW US:
@CreightonSOM
Creighton School of Medicine