Job Title: Faculty, Biomedical Sciences, Physiology Department Biomedical Sciences Division School of Medicine

Vacancy Number: F23-037

Work Location: Columbus, GA

Job Type: Full-time

Job Category: Faculty

Responsibilities: The Mercer University School of Medicine invites applications for a non-tenure track, 12-month appointment on the Columbus campus of Mercer University School of Medicine. The successful candidate will serve as a facilitator in an integrated medical curriculum that includes small and large group case-based learning. MUSM focuses on educating physicians and healthcare professionals to meet the primary care and health care needs of rural and medically underserved areas in Georgia. Faculty members are expected to participate broadly across the curricula and engage in scholarly activities in areas of biomedical science, medical education, or community-oriented research. Additional duties include course administration and contributions to institutional/departmental governance and service.

Qualifications: Successful candidates will hold a terminal doctoral degree (PhD, MD, or related degree) and have strong evidence of teaching expertise in medical physiology. Candidates with expertise in gastrointestinal, or endocrine and reproductive physiology are highly desirable. Experience in health professions education and with innovative learning strategies including the ability to facilitate large and small interactive sessions is preferred. Applications for the ranks of Assistant, Associate or Full Professor will be considered. Applicants applying for Associate or Full Professor ranks should have a strong record of medical school teaching in large and small group settings.

Background Check: Selection of the final candidate is contingent upon successful completion of a criminal background check.

Pay Rate: Commensurate with experience

Required Documents: CV, Cover Letter, Statement of Teaching Philosophy, References

Special Instructions to Applicants: Review of applications begins immediately and continues until filled. Complete applications will include a curriculum vitae, a cover letter listing evidence of teaching ability, statement of teaching philosophy, and a list of three professional references, including phone numbers and email addresses.

EEO Statement: AA/EEO/Veteran/Disability Mercer University recognizes the power of a diverse community and encourages applications from individuals with varied experiences, perspectives, and backgrounds.

COVID-19 Vaccine Mandate: All faculty and staff, excluding student employees, on-call staff and adjunct faculty teaching online only, are required to have the COVID-19 vaccine or an approved medical or religious exemption by the University. New hires will be required to provide their COVID-19 vaccination card or receive approval for a medical or religious exemption by the University before their first day of employment.
