Full-Time, Teaching-Track Faculty Position in Human and Evolutionary Biology

Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences
Faculty
Los Angeles, California

The Department of Biological Sciences, Human and Evolutionary Biology Section, in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California, has a full-time teaching track lecturer opening to teach classroom and lab courses in the field of human biology to start Fall 2022.

Qualifications: Applicants must have a PhD degree in Biological Sciences or a related field. Applicants must be familiar with standard academic teaching and possess a strong commitment to undergraduate education and excellence in teaching.

To apply, please submit your CV, cover letter, past teaching evaluations and the names of three individuals who will be contacted by USC for a letter of reference. Referees must speak to teaching abilities. In order to be considered for this position, all candidates must apply via the apply link at the bottom of this page. Please submit applications by March 15. For more information, please contact Lorraine Turcotte (turcotte@usc.edu).

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The university particularly encourages members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

REQ20112132 Posted Date: 01/29/2022

To apply visit: https://facultypositions.usc.edu/FAS/application/step1?requisitionId=REQ20112132