

apply for our professional skills training course

Writing and Reviewing for Scientific Journals

JANUARY 23–26, 2020
DISNEY'S YACHT AND BEACH CLUB RESORT, ORLANDO, FLA.

Work in person with journal editors and highly-published authors to improve your first-author draft manuscript. Learn about the submission process and receive feedback on your draft manuscript.

REQUIREMENTS

Must be a graduate student, postdoctoral fellow or early career investigator who is open to critiques, wants to expand their professional network and will have a first-author draft manuscript prepared by December 2019.

REGISTRATION

Registration fee of $800 includes course materials, double-occupancy hotel room, meals and ground transportation. Early Bird Registration Rate: $750 by December 1, 2019

TRAVEL AWARDS

The Federation of American Societies For Experimental Biology is offering the DREAM Trainee Travel Award for up to $1000 to defray costs of attending this training course. Apply at surveymonkey.com/r/APSPSTC2020. Application Deadline Date: November 18, 2019

Attendees are responsible for reviewing the course materials and requirements ahead of time to assure ability to complete the course work described in the syllabus. For special needs or requests, please notify education@the-aps.org prior to the course registration deadline. APS will attempt to honor requests on a case-by-case basis.

the-aps.org/pst/writingworkshop

“Having different people looking at my manuscript allowed me to understand my weakest points and what needed to be improved. It shed a new light over my results and allowed me to look at them in a new way.”

Carla Carvalho
Uppsala University
Sweden

“It was a fantastic course. I felt so privileged to listen to the instruction and discussion of experts in the field.”

Anna Manis
Medical College of Wisconsin
Milwaukee